Frederick Giles, the President of the Marion Buttons Company, by whom he was charged with fraud and emberzlement. The allegation is that last March Wood and one Risley agreed with the Hotel Company to take charge of the concern on the condition that the Company should have the privilege of fixing the terms on which the boarders should be entertained. Wood and Risley supplying all things necessary for their entertainment, as well as at certain times making payments and settlements of money received by them from boarders. Mr. Giles deposes that since the agreement Risley has resigned and Wood assumed control, and that since Risley left Wood has failed to remit the full amount of the profits to the Company, and thereby defrauded them out of various sums of money. Upon these representations Recorder Aldridge of Hudson City had Mr. Wood arrested, but not before the constable drew his revolver upon Wood, who seemed determined to resist the execution of the warrant. On Saturday morning the accused was arraigned before the Recorder. District Attorney Garretson appeared on behalf of the State. Recorder Aldridge at the conclusion of the examination released the prisoner upon $1,000 bail. He was again arrested charged with threatening to shoot one of the guesta at the hotel, Mr. Theo. S. Dumont, and was upon this charge required to give bail in $500.

-A LARGE MEETING ANTICIPATED. CAMP GROUND, Aug. 12.—The school-boy, making the tour of the world in his atlas, imagines "Martha's Vineyard" as a new edition of the Hebrides, srowded with golden fruits and crowned with tropical Sewers; but what imagination believes to be a little wanderer from the "Blessed Isles," observation finds mere like a slice of Sahara, thrown into the sea, and the al of a floating fruit basket, anchored off the border of the Bay State, in charge of some mysterious and matronly Martha, proves in reality a sand bank, fringed with breakers, clothed with pigmy shrubbery, animated with fleas of remarkable appetites, and only a vineyard In ite production of wild grapes and a few sour berries. However, the Camp-Meeting Grove is so delightful, the opportunity for bathing, fishing, and flirting so good, the epportunity for bathing, fishing, and flirting so good, the people of the island so hospitable and social, and the climate so healthful and pleasing that this "Beautiful late of the Sea" has iong been a favorite resort, and every late of the Sea" has iong been a favorite resort, and every year its list of admirers increases. After a dreary ride on one of the Hartford, Providence, and Fishkill Railroad trains, that, like a wounded snake, Railroad trains, that, like a wounded snake, eraged its slow length along, and then cracked its alow length along, and then being delayed half a day by the blunder of the Providence ticket agent; after wasting a day and a half being delayed half a day by the bunder of the being delayed half a day by the bunder of the Providence ticket-agent; after wasting a day and a-half in getting over about 100 miles between two large cities, I at length arrived at New-Bedford, and having shaken of the dust from my clothes as a testimony against these more burse, rallroads, I started for the steamer Monohausett, which was to carry us to the camp ground. Gohansett, which was to carry us to the camp ground. Gohansett, which was to carry us to the camp ground, defined by the started for the steamer Monohausett, which was to carry us to the camp ground. Gohansett, which was to carry us to the camp ground for the meeting does not begin until next week, the delightful "Forest City" on the camp ground is alfready well populated with Summer residents, and the carpet-baggers are beginning to flow in. For weeks there have been a goodly number of people here enjoying the sea breeze and baths of this charming religious watering place. Those who are coming bouses to let, or else bring their blankets to cover themselves in the large society tents. A greater rush than were is anticipated this year, and those who come will doubtless be entertained as well as edified with the mune and preaching. we and preaching.

THE GOOD OLD: TIME AND THE GOOD TIME COMING.

MARTHA'S VINEYARD, Aug. 13 .- This Camp Ground is a "big thing," to begin with. There can be no doubt whatever about that. It stands alone as the eighth wonder of the world. There is nothing else like it on the earth-the most luxurious of Camp Grounds and the most social of watering-places. Just at present this island is, to many a young man, what Godsend Island was to Robert Penfold-a capital place for gallantry and courtship. This descendant of the feast of tabernacles is reputed to be much gayer than its great ancestor, whose tents were made of boughs and branches, instead of cloth and wood, and whose exercises had more soul and fess social in them than to-day. This Camp has even been called "Vanity Fair." We hear "oldest attendant" talk of the good old when faith had more part in a camp meeting than fashion, when prayer was more common than promenading, when conversions were as frequent as courtships, but with a sigh he looks on the present and sighs, "There is no time like the old time." Then he tells us that camp meetings wereipicket posts in the van of the church militant, but now they are mere dress parades. He wishes we could call back the old style of preachers, "knowing no more of grammar than your caif," but always getting hold of the heart-strings, and "as princes having power with God and with men, and prevailing." But whatever people may say it is certain that in this most charming of "God's first temples" there is offered up soleum thanks and supplication. There is a sacred influence that from the nature of the place come on us e'er we are aware, and earnest prayers, pungent sermons, and hearty song rise like incense from this consecrated grove. The "Hub" and every other city of New-Engiand sends a delegation here every year. It is the putting of the old wine of the cities into the new bottles of the forest, and both are preserved and improved. Only metaphorical wine, however, for the State Pelue have an office here. Meetings for prayer and preaching are held here daily, although the meeting proper begins next week, when the hundreds of croquet games inside the circuit will be taken up. There is no end of music here, as we have it from accrdeons, melodeons, organs, brass bands, babies, locusts, canaries, and college students, who last night gave us neeting than fashion, when prayer was more

THE LONG ISLAND CAMP MEETING. MERRICK, Aug. 15 .- Over 5,000 persons attended the camp meeting at this place yesterday, and the attendance no doubt would have been much larger had on the ground, many of them who have been in attendance during the past week having returned to their respective charges on Saturday night. This is a general rule with clergymen of the Methodist persuasion, as they are allowed no vacation, but are expected to minister to their people cach Sunday. Most of them, however, will return to the meeting to-day, and help finish the campaign, which will close on Friday. On Saturday there was about 3,000 people on the ground, the majority being women. Services were held at the stand morning, afternoon, and evening, by the Revs. Parker, Ford, and Terry. The evening prayer meeting was largely attended, and a number were converted. The services commenced with prayer meetings in the several tents as early as 5 a. m. The meetings in the several tents as early as 5 a. m. The meetings lasted until seven, breakfast time, after which there was a general Love Feast, at which the brethren and, sisters related their experience. The Love Feast was preaded over by Elder Griswold. At 10, a seruon was preached from the stand, by the Rev S. H. Platt, from Fleet Street church, Brooklyn, from the text. You must be born sgain. The preacher went on to state that as the interior physical man is sustained from outward sources, so the moral welfare of man depended on his taking advantage of meetings of this kind, and closed his remarkaby begging his hearers not to let the present opportunity pass, but receive Christ, and be born again. Services in the afternoon were conducted by the Rev. Wm. H. Boole. In the evening the Rev. Mr. Tower of the Greenpoint Tabernaele preached a powerful and effective discourse, which was followed by the usual prayer meeting. The ground, notwithstanding the rain of the morning, was perfectly dry. Since the opening of the meeting the committee have been hard at work erecting tents—some 150 of which are now up and occupied—and in laying out streets, which they have named after those streets in Brooklyn in which there are Methodist churches. The meeting so far have been on the ground, many of them who have been in attendance during the past week having returned to their re-

METHODIST GROVE MEETING.

Boulevard Grove is a shady retreat a short distance from the termination of Gates-ave., at Broadway, Brooklyn, E. D. The Grove is at present the scene of a religious encampment of Methodists, which is to tast eight days. The arrangements are under the charge of a few leading Methodist clergyman, of whom we recognized on the ground the Rev. S. A. Baker, D. D., President of the New-York Methodist Conference, and the Rev. William C. Clark, pastor of the Myrtie-st. Chapel, Williamsburgh, The encampment was formally opened on Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock, but the preparations not being then complete, the actual inauguration took place yesterday morning at 165 o'clock, when religious services were held, and a sermon preached by the Rev. R. Woodruff of Brooklyn. Services were also held at 3 o'clock, p. m., and again at 75 in the evening. The Rev. Dr. Baker was the preacher of the mid-day sermon, upon the text from Amos, 5th chapter, 8th verse: "Seek him that maketh the Seven Stars and Orien, and turneth the shadow of death into the morning, and maketh the day dark with night," &c. This plainly suggested the inteclipse, which the speaker turned to his purpose with happy effect—drawing from it copious illustration to enforce moral truth. The Rev. Joseph Thompson of Williamsburgh preached the svening discourse. There was a large audience on each occasion. There are about thirteen wooden buildings permanently on the ground, and two tents have been farected, so that there is large accommodation. A few families have already taken quarters and movedin, but the encampment is not expected to be fairly under way before Tuesday. The place is amply provisioned, so that all who choose can have their meals on the ground. The charges for mosals are, for breakfast and supper, 50 cents each; dunner, 75 cents; a reasonable deduction to be made in favor of parties engaging board for the full week. No spirituous liquors are allowed within the precincts, nor tobacco where it would be offensive. The caterors in the refreshment department are Messrs. Bulmer, King, Moore, and Willet, all of Plainfield, N. J. Three services, with preaching at dach, will be held every day during the entir of a religious encampment of Methodists, which is to fast eight days. The arrangements are under the charge THE REV. Dr. PATTEN OF CHICAGO.

This eloquent divine, who is also editor of The Advance, is officiating at Plymouth Church during the absence of Mr. Beecher. His discourse last evening was from the 3d Chapter of St. Mark, 16th and 17th verses: "And Simon, he surrasmed Peter; and James the son of Zebedee, and John the brother of James; and he surnamed them Boanerges, which is the sons of thunder." Jesus had a thorough knowledge of character; his application of names was therefore in accordance with the distinct natural traits of his disciples. He had drawn upon the Greek and Syriac in giving surnames, as in the text. The preacher was therefore led to consider the subject under the head of "Natural Religious Traits of Character." The traits of overy man's character were original, and distinguished him from all others. These traits lay back of voluntary action and marked the way in which he should go. What effect had giety upon those original natural traits! Did it modify or abelish them! No: It was purifying and ennebling. Why should picty reduce the world to a dead level! Picty agaged the eisterhood of the church in works of mechiness, but the church preserved distinction between the sexes, and did not call upon women to preach, or to occupy stations inconsistent with the interests and claims of the sphere of home, or the modesty pertaining to the position of women. Man was made spiritually different through piety, but they remained saturally the same. absence of Mr. Beecher. His discourse last evening was ORDINATION ANNIVERSARY. At the Church of St. Peter and St. Paul, Williamsburgh, solemn high mass was celebrated by the Rev. Dr. Malone, assisted by deacon, sub-deacon and Rev. Dr. Malone, assisted by deacon, sub-deacon and master of ceremonies. The Rev. Dr. McGlynn of this city preached an appropriate sermon upon the festival of the day. By a coincidence the day was also the 25th anniversary of the ordination of Father Malone, the pastor, who has been with his present congregation for 25 years. When he came among them they were using a little frame building for services, and it was through him that they were enabled to build the magnificent church they new worship in. After the service for the day was over, a gathering of Dr. Malone's friends took place at his real-dence, who partook of a bountiful repast, and wished gathering of Dr. Malone's friends took piace at his residence, who partook of a bountiful repast, and wished him many returns of the occasion. Among the reverend gentlemen present were Bishop Laughlin, Fathers Turner, Carran, McAudrews of the Church of the Haly Cross; Morrow of the Immaculate Conception; Shea, President of St. John's College, Fordham; Mooney of St. Bridget's; Killian of Newark, and Keegan of the Assembling.

THE FEAST OF THE ASSUMPTION.

Yesterday the Feast of the Assumption of the Blessed Virgin was celebrated in the Catholic Churches with all the grandeur the Roman ritual admits Churches with all the grandeur the Roman ritual admits of. The festival was instituted in accordance with a tradition which has existed since the early ages of the Church—that the Virgin after her death was carried body and soul to heaven. At the Church of the Assumption, Brooklyn, solemn High Mass was sung by the Pastor, the Rev. Wm. Keegan, the Rev. John Finnegan, S. J. Vice-President of Saint John's College, deacon, and the Rev. Thomas A. Reid, sub-deacon. At the Gospel, an able sermon preached by Father Finnegan. Haydn's Mass, No. 2, was performed under the direction of Prof. Selle, the organist, assisted by Miss Mooney, soprano; Mrs. Gullo, alto; Mr. Delvaut, basso; and Mr. Bauerbund, tenor.

THE CATHOLIC CHURCH AND THE FREEDMEN. The Rev. Mr. Spaulding, a nephew of the Archbishop of Baltimore, of Louisville, Kentucky, preached a sermon yesterday in St. Peter's Church on behalf of the freedmen. The subject was not treated in a political light, but, as the Rev. Father said, upon the broad grounds that the black men have souls to save. The wants and needs of the men lately held in bondage should not be passed by idly. Schools and churches must be built for them, and this, said Father Spaulding, must be built for them, and this, said Father Spanning was his mission in the city to obtain contributions for that purpose. The church was crowded, and the sermon was listened to with great interest. Mr. Spaniding will preach at St. Andrew's Church next Sabbath.

DEDICATION OF A CATHOLIC CHURCH. The new Roman Catholic church of St. Mary at Hunter's Point, the Rev. John Crunnin, pastor, was at Hunter's Point, the Rev. John Crunnin, pastor, was selemnly dedicated to the service of Almighty God yesterday, by the Right Rev Bishop Loughlin, assisted by the Rev. Dr. Gardner, and the Rev. Fathers Pollard, Joins, Bridgeman and Marshall. At the close of the dedicatory services, the clergy returned to the vestry and robed for selemn high mass. When the celebrant had chauted the first Gospel, the Right Rev. Bishop ascended the altar steps and preached an eloquent sermon, taking as his text, the whole of the 17th chapter of St. John, containing the affecting prayer of our Savier for his disciples a short time before his betrayal. The speaker dwelt chiefly upon the inmutability of the truth of God, as revealed in His Word, and upon the unity of the Church founded upon that Word. Amid all the political convulsions and revolutions of the past the Church, against which the Lord said "the gates of Hell should not prevail," had remained unchanged. The Word of God was the same that it was when it was first spoken. God himself was immutable, and his Word must necessarily be unchangeable. Nations had arisen and empires had crumbled to nothing, but the Church remained the same, and would continue the same until its great ends were accomplished. St. Mary's Church is built of wood, and is 60 feet front by 100 feet in depth. The body of the building is 38 feet high, while the top of the spire is 150. feet above the ground. There is scating accommedations for 1,450 people. The ground and building cost about $20,000. The architecture approaches the gother in style, and is in good taste. The attar, for beauty and finish, is equal, and in fact superior, to many contained in the more costly and pretending edifices.

s St. Mary's Church fronts on Fifth-st., between Central and Jackson-aves., and is decidedly the most imposing and attractive structure in the neighborhood. The music of mass was very agreeably sung by the volunteer choir of the church. solemnly dedicated to the service of Almighty God

LAYING A CORNER-STONE.

The corner-stone of a small Catholic church on the corner of Bergen-ave. and South-st., Hudson City, was laid yesterday afternoon, with the customary imposing ceremonies. There were a number of the reverend clergy and a large concourse of the laity present.

THE COMMUNIPAW ABATTOIR.

AN INJUNCTION GRANTED BY CHANCELLOR ZA-

Chancellor Zabriskie, at his Chambers in Jersey City, on Saturday, issued [an injunction against the Communipaw Abattoir, restraining the Stock Yards Company from further prosecuting the work of slaughtering and dressing cattle upon their premises. Attorney-Gen. Gilchrist appeared on behalf of the citizens of the Third and Fourth Wards of Bergen City, and, on the strength of a number of affidavits from residents in the vicinity of the stock-yards at Communipaw, moved the granting of the injunction. Messrs. Seth G. Babcock, John Van Horn, iv., John A. Babcock, John A. Post, Delos E. Culver. Ephraim W. Buck, William Keeney, and John R. Halliday, acting as complainants in this suit, represent in their bill of complaint that the act of 186e, under which the Stock Yard Company is incorporated. John R. Hallday, acting as complainants in this suit, represent in their bill of complaint that the act of 1866, under which the Stock Yard Company is incorporated, does not empower that company to keep, feed, water, market, kill, deliver, or transfer live stock, or dressed or undressed animals, or to take care of, subsist, handle, or render the same, but perely to creet and maintain the yards that others may be able to do these things; that the proceeds of offal rendering, if it be at all authorized, can be conducted only when it does not work injury to the health or comfort of contiguous settlements; that at the time at which the Abattoir was established there lived in the vicinity about 2,500 people; that the property-owners then resident there had chosen the place because of its peculiar desirability as a place of residence; that up to that time the value had failed to advance at its accustomed ratio; that the business done at the yards had been unskillfully conducted, and that, in consequence, the health and comfort of the vicinity had been impaired; that the fact that it had been injurious to health and comfort had been the basis of a suit in which Delos E. Culver had recovered from the keepers of the yards the sum of $75 and the costs of court, as well as the basis of a suit in which Delos E. Culver had recovered from the keepers of the yards the sum of $75 and the costs of court, as well as the basis of an indictment against them by the Grand Jury of Hudson County, the trial of which will take place in October next, and that at the time of the recent visit to the yards by the Health Board, which resulted in a decision favorable to the proprietors, the tide was high, the wind off shore, and the cleansing of them had just been effected, and consequently that no proper judgment could then be formed. Upon the showing of this complaint and the proof of its allegations, which the affidavits contained, the Chancellor granted the injunction will be perpetual is set down for argument on the 3d of September next.

LABOR MOVEMENTS.

THE PLATE PRINTERS' STRIKE. It is the opinion of the Plate Printers formerly employed by the National Bank Note Company that the Company must either shortly accede to the demands of the men or submit to a loss of the Government work. Neither the National or American Bank Note Companies are fulfilling the provisions of their contracts so far as re are fulfilling the provisions of their contracts so far as relates to the amount of work turned out daily, while much of the work which is now sent on to headquarters is represented as very poorly executed. The authorities are constantly pressing the Bank Note Companies for remittances, but the withdrawal of the 69 old hands from the National sadly hinders work, not more than one-third of the number of inspressings taken under the old order of things being possible with the present insufficient force. The strikers manifest no uneasiness regarding the affair in which they are involved, and declare that they will hold out until the Fadl, if necessary. There is no lack of money with which to pay off the idle men. At the close of the weekly payment, on Saturday, a handsome sum remained in the hands of the treasurer. The Union hands at work in the American Bank Note Company's establishment were assessed but 15 per cent each on their earnings last week, while during the two preceding weeks they were assessed 20 per cent. At the meeting of the men held on Saturday evening, at No. 15 East Seventhst, the President of the Union addressed the strikers, announcing that there was nothing discouraging in the Present aspect of affairs, and that they had prospected even beyond their expectations. He urged the men to stand firm, and predicted a close of hostilities before the close of the present week. To-morrow ends the third week of the strike. Last week the strikers received $300 from the Washington plate printers, and they claim that they have $1.000, the gift of the Philadelphia plate printers, which remains untouched. The amount required to support the men on strike is about $900 weekly. lates to the amount of work turned out daily, while much

In their address announcing the end of the strike, the Committee say that they hope soon to discard strikes as a means of obtaining better wages, in favor of cooperation. They return thanks to the Tailors' Protective Union for 1,000; the Musicians' Mutual Society for $300, the Clothing Cutters for contributions whose amount is not stated, and to that portion of the public press which sympathized with the movement. As to the newspapers that did not give aid and sympathy to the strike, the Committee say "they were not, and did not care to be, acquainted with our circumstances." END OF THE SHOP TAILORS' STRIKE.

A MATHEMATICAL VALUATION OF ITS LIABILITIES

TOGETHER WITH LETTERS FROM

HON, WILLIAM BARNES,

Superintendent of the Insurance Department in the State of New-York.

The above, published in pamphlet form for general circulation, may be procured at the offices of the Company, Nos. 144 and 146 Broadway, or from any of its Agents throughout the country. Replete with highly important imformation of interest to the public, these reports, emanating from men of unquestioned ability and position, should be universally read.

The following extracts are appended as explanatory of the purposes of the published reports: At a meeting of the Board of Trustees of The Mutual Life Insurance Company of New-York, held at their office, in the City of New-York, Jane 9, 1869, it was, upon the suggestion of the President, " Resolved, That Mesara J. V. L. Proyn, David Hoadley, O. H. Palmer, Henry R. Davies, and William R. Dodge, be, and are hereby appointed, a Committee to examine the assets of this Company, and the amount and character of the same, and also to ascertain its liabilities on its policies otherwise, and report the result of such examination to this Board."

The Committee believing it to be highly important to ascertain from the best authority within their reach, whether the general basis on which the Company was transacting its business, and expected to meet its obligations is the future, was sound, adopted, on the 16th of June last, the following

"Resolved. That the President be requested to engage the services of Professors Bartlett and Church of West Point, and also, if deemed advisable, those of any other mathematical professor of known ability and reputation, for the purpose of examining the general principles, and testing the accuracy of the valuations of the Life lumrance policies, and other obligations issued by the Company, and the liability of the Company of the valuations of the Life lumrance policies, and other obligations issued by the Company, and the liability of the Company of the company and the liability of the Company of the policies, in order that it may be determined by the nighest professional ability, and with all the precision of which the subject is capable, what is the policies, in order that it may be determined by the nighest professional ability, and with all the precision of which the subject is capable, what is the particular amount of all the outstanding liabilities of the Company, whether on policies, for annuities granted, or otherwise, and that the persons making actual amount of all the outstanding liabilities of the Company, whether on policies, for annuities granted, or otherwise, and that the persons making actual amount of all the outstanding liabilities of the Company, whether on policies, for annuities granted, or otherwise, and that the persons making actual amount of all the outstanding liabilities of the Company, whether on policies, for annuities granted, or otherwise, and that the persons making actual amount of all the outstanding liabilities of the Company and with all the precision of which the subject is capable, what is the persons making actual amount of all the outstanding liabilities of the Company and with all the persons and with all the persons and the liability of the Company and the liability of the C An able and interesting elucidation of the underlying principle of assurance is given by Professors Bartlett and Church, in the body of their Repork

This portion alone will well repay perusal by all intelligent and thoughtful persons. The following brief extract partially indicates the manuer in which the subject is handled. There are no terms, usually employed in stating the financial condition of an Insurance Company, so likely to mislead as the words Of and Assets. They very often suggest to the minds of persons unacquainted with the principles of assurance the most errousous conclusions, and engender doubt, auxiety, and prejudice in quarters where, if properly auderstood, they would produce confidence, repose, and wholesome conviction. For instance, the Company's obligations for policies in force, with additions for increased assurance, amount to more than fice hundred and turniy-two millions of dollars, while your gross assets are represented to be little less than thirty-teo millions. A hald and naked statement like this seldom falls to produce, in minds ignorant of the facts that lie behind not stated, a bellef that the Company is bankrupt-hopelessly insolvent. But when it comes to be understood that these obligations and assets are not simulfaneous-that is, that the obligations are prospective and only mature gradually along the future, while the assets are present and must grow during the same gives abundant assurance of safety. To illustrate: If a person one a dollar to-day, he must, to be solvent, have a dollar to pay. His assets must equal his obligations; they are both resent, and therefore simultaneous. If he must pay a dollar a year bence, and money is worth five per cent per annum, he need only have to-day the fraction 0.952301, say 0.95 of a dollar; for this will earn enough to make up the dollar by the end of the year. Here his present assets are less than his future obligations, and he is solvent because, by the time of the required payment, the former will certainly grow to the dimensions of the atter; they are not simultaneous.

We are of opinion, after very careful and mature consideration that the mathematical principles which properly underlie the business of Life-Assurance have been ably, judiciously, and conservatively applied in the operations of your Company, and that so long as they shall continue to bee thus applied, they cannot fail to produce results which must give you the strongest possible claim to public confidence. Very respectfully, your obedient servants, make the following extract: Hon. J. V. L. PROTN, Chairman of Committee, etc. Hon. J. V. L. PRUTN, Underman of Committee, etc.

WILLIAM H. C. BARTLETT; Professor Nat. and Expl. Phy: A. E. CHURCH,

Mr Dran Sir: In reply to your communication, I have no besitation in saying that I believe the general management of the affairs of The Moton's Life Insurance Company of New York to be sound, discreet, and judicious. Indeed, no such institution as that which now surprises the actuaries and statisticians of two continents could have been built up under any other suspices. This Company has for many years been the representative Life Insurance Company of the United States, and with its success or failure the whole system in this country was intimately connected. Had this Company failed or been mismanaged, it would have injured every other similar institution. Its splendid success, unparalleled in the history of the business in any country, has buoyed up and austained scores of other Companies, which have already entered on promising careers of success and unsefulness.

I need not say to you, with your great knowledge and experience in financial and corporate affairs, that any attack on your Company is simply an attack on the whole business of Life Insurance. I am, Sir, very respectfully, your obedient servant,

[Signed,]

WILLIAM BARNES.

We may say, we trust without presumption, that The Mutual Life Insurance Company of New-York presents, under Providence, the highests security of its kind which our country can give, and that its honorable record thus far in its history may be received as an assurance of its integrity The Committee consider it to be due to the officers of the Company to make a few remarks in reference to its management. However well we may theorize, sound business results must be worked out by faithful agents. The Committee are gratified to express their confidence in the fidelity and ability of the Vice-President and of the subordinate officers of the Company, and their appreciation of their attention and devotion to their respective duties. The ability of the Actuary has been so warmly spoken of in the report of Professors Bartlett and Church that no more need be In reference to the President, they desire to remark that, since his election to that office, he has devoted business talents and energies of a highoder to its very responsible and laborious duties. For the last fifteen years he has annua y been unanimously elected to the important place heholds. No one among us has more reason to be gratified with the progress and the succe of his labors. He began his duties when the Company was in the feeble condition of childhood. Now, in its maturer days, he finds it, in the language of the Superintendent of the Insurance Department. to be "the leading Life Insurance Company of the world."

This is, in a large measure, due to his able management and to his untiring devotion to its interests. The result is the highest achievement he could have desired.

All which is respectfully submitted.
